

It's Finally Here!

The community you've been looking for, the growth opportunity you've been craving

The HR Culture Collective

The HR Culture Collective, or HRCC, is a unique membership group dedicated to the growth and development of Human Resource practitioners and other people-centered professionals. We achieve this through creating a safe and warm community of like-minded individuals and providing high-quality monthly programming to further our mission of caring for ourselves and for our people, all of this while earning SHRM PDCs.

Expect to find deep connections in our open and inviting networking events and inspiration while listening to world class speakers from around the country as they join us to lead interactive programming on topics that will change how you live and work. The HRart Center also provides an online hub where you can access the replays and join the programs via livestream if you can't make it in-person.

The Benefits

1. Earn SHRM PDCs for Real Professional Development

The HRCC has a lineup of incredible experts from around the country ready to present a variety of topics. These topics have been hand-selected to bring new perspectives on how to do work in our community. We'll cover topics that expand your skill sets in all things leadership, understanding yourself and others in the workplace, communicating more effectively, building resilience to prevent burnout, and cultural effectiveness. Each attendee will receive a record of their participation and an activity code which they can use to earn their SHRM PDCs for each program.

2. Find Your Support

This program was born out of our community's need for support, connection and genuine encouragement. Our work can often make us feel completely alone, but the HRCC is your once-a-month check-in with the people who've got your back and are growing in the same direction you are.

3. Have Online Access to Live Programming As Well As the Replay

Do you prefer to attend virtually, or perhaps it's just hard to get out of the office some days to get to the HRart Center? We've got you covered. You'll find access to the livestream programs as well as any of the replays on the HRart Center's online hub.
